PRIVACY POLICY — TradVue | Last Updated: March 16, 2026

Section 1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how Apex Logics LLC, a Florida limited liability company doing business as TradVue ("TradVue," "we," "us," or "our"), collects, uses, stores, shares, and protects information about you when you use the TradVue platform at tradvue.com and any associated applications (collectively, the "Service").

TradVue is committed to protecting your privacy and handling your personal information with transparency and care. By creating an account or using the Service, you agree to the collection and use of your information as described in this Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy is incorporated into and forms part of our Terms of Service.

> For data protection inquiries, contact us at: privacy@tradvue.com

2.4 Anonymous Visitors vs. Account Holders

TradVue distinguishes between anonymous visitors and registered account holders for data collection purposes:

We do not store personal trade data, journal entries, or any personally identifiable information for anonymous visitors. Anonymous usage of publicly available features (dashboard, news, economic calendar, calculators, watchlist) does not result in storage of personal data on our servers.
- Account Holders: Once you create a free or paid account, we collect and store the full range of data described in this Section 2, including your account information, trading data, preferences, and usage data, as necessary to provide the Service.

2.5 Usage Data

When you use the Service, we automatically collect:

- IP address — for security, fraud prevention, and abuse detection.
- Device type and operating system — for compatibility and support.
- Browser type and version — for compatibility.
- Pages and features visited — to understand how the Service is used.
- Feature interaction data — which features you use, how often, and for how long.
- Referral URLs — how you arrived at the Service.
- Error logs — to diagnose and fix technical issues.

2.6 Payment Information

All payment processing is handled exclusively by Stripe, Inc. ("Stripe"), a PCI DSS Level 1-certified payment processor. TradVue:

- Does not collect, store, or process your credit card numbers, bank account numbers, or other payment card data.
- May retain records of subscription tier, billing dates, and transaction status for account management purposes.
- May receive from Stripe a tokenized payment method identifier (not the card number itself) for managing recurring subscriptions.

2.7 Broker Sync Data (Future Feature)

If and when TradVue offers automated broker synchronization, and you choose to connect a brokerage account:

- We will collect trade history, account balances, and position data from connected brokerages through our third-party aggregator.
- Connecting a brokerage account is entirely voluntary.
